[illegible]olice Move In Mysterious Red Teacher's Case

NEW YORK, Aug. 9—(AP)—New York police at the request of the Soviet consulate asked New Jersey police today to produce a Russian-born schoolteacher who told his story to the FBI yesterday.

The teacher, Michael Ivanovitch Samarin, 40, and his wife and three children are at Farm Rova, operated by a White Russian (anti-Communist) group near Cassville, N. J., the consulate told police.

The house un-American affairs committee has expressed an interest in Samarin. His whereabouts had been cloaked in secrecy after he obtained a voluntary interview with the FBI yesterday.

Police Message Quoted

The police message sent to Toms River, N. J., state police headquarters quoted the Russian consulate as saying it would prosecute if the Samarin family was detained at the Farm against its will.

Deputy Chief Police Inspector Edward Mullins conferred 45 minutes with Soviet Consul General Jacob M. Lomakin on Samarin.

Mullins said "we are now going to check every person and thing connected with the Samarin case." He said he planned to talk to the FBI about it.

Not in Custody

Soviet officials have been seeking to return the teacher to his native land. Samarin came here to teach in a school for children of Russian members of the United Nations delegation.

FBI officials declined yesterday to discuss the nature of their talks with Samarin but they said he was not in custody.

(In New York, Soviet Consul General Jacob M. Lomakin said "absolutely not" when asked if Mrs. Kosenkna could be served with a subpoena in the consulate.)

Told that the House Un-American Activities committe in Washington—which is now engaged in probing Communist espionage operations—wanted to talk to Samarin, an ABI spokesman said:

"I am sure he can be found if he is wanted."

Another Teacher Sought.

Meanwhile another Russian school teacher, Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, who became the center of a melodramatic tug-of-war between Soviet officials and a White Russian (anti-Communist) group Saturday, was reported

TRUMAN ACTION ON BILLS PASSED BY CONGRESS AWAITED

NO INDICATION OF PLANS GIVEN, BUT MANY URGE SIGNING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The White House remained silent today on President Truman's strategy for his next attack on the 80th congress.

While most presidential advisors say Mr. Truman will sign the Republican housing and anti-inflation bills, he is expected to criticize them sharply as inadaquate.

White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters only that anyone can draw his own inference from the president's "known attitude."

The housing bill, less than the president asked of the special session of congress, has reached the president. Ross said it will go through the usual routine of submission to departments concerned for their comments. The anti-inflation bill, also short of the president's demands, should reach him shortly.

Signing Urged.

Some of Mr. Truman's best friends in congress urged him to sign the measures.

They were passed by the special session which quit Saturday night after 13 days of political in-fighting on Capitol Hill.

Senator Hatch of New Mexico, chairman of the Democratic campaign speakers' committee, told a reporter:

"Inadequate as these measures are, I still think they represent some advance over what we have now and I hope the president signs them."

"Compelled" to Sign.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the assistant Democratic leader, said he feels the president will be "compelled" to sign them.

"But I am sure that when he

BUMPER COTTON CROP PREDICTION CAUSES PLUNGE ON MARKETS

FIRST ESTIMATE TOPS EXPECTATIONS, SENDS SPOTS, FUTURES DOWN

NEW YORK, Aug. 9—(AP)—Cotton futures on the New York exchange dropped today more than $3 a bale below Friday's close after the government forecast a bumper 1948 crop.

Most traders had not anticipated a crop as large as the 15,169,000 bales predicted by the agriculture department. Private forecasts had averaged some 1,300,000 below this figure.

Following the customary suspension of trading for the government announcement, there was a rush to sell contracts for future delivery, and prices dropped swiftly

Futures closed $2.05 to $2.65 a bale lower.

New Orleans Breaks

At New Orleans prices broke $2.35 to $2.90 a bale, with the widest drop in October deliveries. Spots were $2.50 a bale lower.

At Dallas, cotton broke $4 a bale on the Dallas cotton exchange after the government crop estimate.

Such a crop would be the seventh largest on record. The top yield was 18,946,000 produced in 1937.

The 1948 indicated crop is 3,318,000 bales more than last year's crop and 3,155,000 bales more than the ten-year (1937-46) average.

Highest Yield Ever

The indicated yield of 313.5 pounds per acre is the highest on record— 14.6 pounds above the previous record of 298.9 pounds in 1944.

The department said the unusually-high yields is prospect are due not only to exceptionally favorable growing conditions, but also to increased use of fertilizer, and a larger proportion of the cotton acreage being planted in heavy-yielding areas.

This is the first official forecast of the year. It is 3,318,000 bales more than last year's crop of 11,851,000 bales. Production for the 1937-46 period averaged 12,014,000 bales.

In a comparison report, the census bureau said 258,928 running bales of this year's cotton crop

Palestine Coups By 'Irregular' Forces Feared

RHODES, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte says "there are rumors of impending coups by irregular elements" in Palestine.

"These irregular elements," the United Nations mediator said yesterday, "are alleged to be uncontrollable, or to be used as spearheads of regular forces."

He urged the demilitarization of Jerusalem as the "best remedy for this tense situation."

Groups Not Identified.

Bernadotte did not identify these "irregular elements." His statement was interpreted here to mean the Jewish extremist organization Irgun Zvai Leumi.

Officially, Irgun has been absorbed into the Israeli army. But Irgun forces have clashed with Haganah units. Irgun demands all of Trans-Jordan and Palestine for the Jews.

Of the general Palestine situation, Bernadote said:

Both Seek Peace.

"On a government level both sides desire to continue the peace.

Twenty-Two Die, Damage Said High In Europe Storms

LONDON, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Weekend storms in Britain and France left at least 22 persons dead and considerable damage.

British crops were flattened, and wide areas were flooded.

Damage at the French port of Brest alone was estimated at more than 100,000,000 francs ($330,000.)

Severe storms struck in Kent and Sussex, and high waters battered the southeast and east coasts of England today, although in places skies began to clear.

First Reports On Meat Boycott In Texas Indecisive

DALLAS, Aug. 9.—(AP)—First reports from meat retailers in cities where a butcher shop boycott began today were indecisive.

A few grocers in Dallas reported sharply decreased sales while others said everything was normal this morning. There was no noticeable slowdown in Fort Worth at the markets, but Monday mornings were said to be slow generally.

Most grocers were playing a wait and watch game. Housewives in at least 18 Texas cities and towns got on the telephone last week and spread the word to stay away from the meat counters Aug. 9-15 in paotest against the high prices.

C. E. McGlaughn, Dallas meat retailer, said "thus far we are unable to see how the buying strike has touched our business. The customers all mention the strike but go ahead and buy anyway."

In seven stores checked in Austin this morning, two had no meat customers, two reported a slight decrease and three reported no change.

Western Ambassadors Again Confer With Molotov Three Hours As New Threats, Fears Reported In Berlin

BERLIN, Aug. 9—(AP)—The British-licensed newspaper Telegraf said today the Russians are digging trenches and mounting weapons, including rocket guns, on the border between the Soviet occupation zone and western Germany.

U. S. border officials and Germans along the American-Russian zone border, however, said they knew nothing to confirm reports the Russians are erecting weapon points along the frontier. They said the Russians for a long time have been strengthening their border with guards and trenches, designed to halt illegal traffic on country roads.

The newspaper reported feverish activity in woods along the zonal frontiers where, it said, Russian engineers and construction troops are "building a security border."

Telegraf said it obtained this information from Germans who were pressed into service to help dig trenches.

New Threats Heard

This develovment came as the Russians hurled new threats at Berlin's anti-Communists and the United States headed more Superfortresses and its ranking air chiefs toward Germany.

Also, a food crisis in the Soviet zone was indicated. The Russian-controlled press reported strong measures against food hoarders. Farmers and distributors who conceal their stocks or sell them in the black market are being jailed.

The diplomatic maneuvering in Moscow toward big four talks on Germany and possibly all European problems was at a temporary standstill.

Campaign Stepped Up

The Russians stepped up their campaign to intimidate Berlin's anti-Communists, who are opposing Communist attempts to take over the entire city.

Noting the economic hardships resulting from the blockade, the MOSCOW, Aug. 9—(AP)—Diplomats of the United States, Britain and France conferred in the Kremlin with Foreign Minister Molotov more than three hours today.

It was the third such conference in a week and was believed concerned with the Berlin blockade and other problems in the range of differences between the west and east.

The envoys left the Kremlin at 7:45 p. m. (10:45 a. m. CST) and went to the British embassy for another conference. Advisory staffs of all three missions were at the embassy awaiting their arrival.

Ambassadors Attend

U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith led the procession into the Russian seat of government at 4:50 p. m (7:50 a. m. CST.) He was followed by Frank Roberts, special British envoy and private secretary to Foreign Secretary Bevin, and by French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau.

They were to see Foreign Minister Molotov, with whom they conferred Friday evening, presumably about the Berlin blockade, the German problem and perhaps other differences dividing the west and the east. They talked last Monday night with Molotov and Premier Stalin.

Smith conferred with Roberts more than an hour before going to the Kremlin.

Important Meeting

An informed source said the Kremlin session is expcted to be one of the most important meetings so far and may well determine the course of the entire series of talks.

It was a bright, warm afternoon as Smith's long, black automobile, flying a big American flag, drove through the Kremlin gates. The ambassador joked with an aide as he left his embassy. Once more he went in the Kremlin alone, while Roberts and Chat-

Launch Cleanup Drive In Battle Against Polio

City garbage and trash wagons inaugurated the city-wide clean-up campaign Monday morning, and a city spokesman said that if the present equipment proved to be inadequate, additional facilities may be pressed into service.

This campaign has been inaugurated, the second of the year, as a precautionary measure against a threatened polio epidemic here.

Publicity for the drive has been given and various health and civic authorities in addition to city-county health unit and city officials have joined in an effort to clean up the city.

Citizens have been requested to place their trash where it can be hauled and also to clean and clear-up their trash where premises against hiding places for mosquitoes and rats—both disease-carrying pests.

Three garbage trucks and a brush truck with trailer are gathering all debris and garbage throughout the city regardless of whether the households are signed up for the paying for the service. This is only a temporary arrangement, however, in the interest of combatting a potential disease epidemic, it was stressed.

Man Injured In S-P Freight And Jeep Collision

Jack Follis, 49, was reported improved but still in a critical condition at the P. and S. Hospital Monday morning from injuries sustained about 7:45 o'clock Sunday night in a jeep-train collision.

Railroad officials said the train involved was a freight train.

The jeep was demolished.

Follis was rushed to the hospital in a Griffin ambulance.

The injured man resides at 612 East Tenth avenue.

Follis suffered a fractured left leg, several ribs were broken, a pelvis fracture was sustained and possible internal injuries.

The jeep was traveling in a westerly direction at the time of the aciedent, the police report Monday stated.

B. J. Lavender was the engineer and H. H. Jordan was the conductor of the train involved, according to the police report.

Former President, Ousted By Vote, Said Planning Invasion Of Panama

PANAMA, Panama, Aug. 9—(AP)—High government sources said today former President Arnulfo Arias Madrid is organizinz an armed invasion of Panama from Costa Rica.

Arias, who fled Panama last week after being declared the loser in the May presidential elections, is working with the general staff of the Costa Rican army, these informants asserted.

A force of "foreign mercenaries," they added, "is poised to invade the country along the border zone at Puerto Armulles." Puerto Armuelles is in Panama, near the Costa Rican border, on the Pacific ocean.

The informants said Arias, whose government-backed Liberal party opponent, Domingo Diaz Arosemena, has been declared president-elect, went to San Jose by way of Colombia. Reports from Puerto Armuelles said "a large number" of Arias' followers have crossed into Costa Rica in the last few days, using banana plantation trails.

As soon as news reached here that Arias was in San Jose, national police began picking up members of his party organization.

The governmer sources did not disclose the source of their information concerning Arias. It was learned that Jose Daniel Crespo, former minister of education and Liberal party member, went to Costa Rica yesterday afternoon to confer with Jose Figueres, chief of the government Junta there.

State of Emergency

Panama has been under a state of emergency since July 4, following an armed clash between Arais' party members and the national police. Arias spent a fortnight in the canal zone after that and then returned to Panama, but fled into exile again last week, declaring that his life was in danger.

Arias is known to enjoy great popularity in Costa Rica. A border settlement he made with Costa Rica during his administration as Panama's president in 1940-41 was very popular with the Costa Ricans.

This understanding may be brought about, according to Dr. Katherine Gillette Blyley, president of Keuka, by the acquirement of a world view and the "willingness and ability to serve in the grass roots of American community life."

In any small American community may be seen the world in miniature. The stresses and strains which result from trying to live together harmoniously and profitably in a town are the same as those engendered by the same struggle in the world as a whole. If these young women and others like them are taught how to be useful citizens of their own communities, and at the same time given the "world view" spoken of in their plan, their education will prove to be of value to society as a whole.

THE BETTER LIFE.

The meanest man I ever knew
Paid every cent when it was due.
'Twas known an honest man was he,
Which isn't quite enough to be,
For there are times, the truth to state,
When kindness is the nobler trait.

The cleverest man I ever knew
With brilliance all his tasks could do,
But he was evil, and his name
Was all too often linked to shame.
Even the speech he'd sometimes use
His brilliant mind could not excuse.

There's more than wealth to be acquired,
And more than fame to be desired.
Who would a life of service lead
Must faithful be to code and creed,
And dealing with his fellow kind
Must gracious be of heart and mind.

NEW POLIO AID

Though hard - working doctors and scientists have not yet discovered a means to prevent poliomyelitis, new aids keep appearing for the victims of this dread disease. One announced recently in New York City, at the first international polio conference, is an electrical nerve developed by the General Electric Co.

Electricity is used as a substitute for the impulses of lost nerves, and causes flabby, inert muscles to move. The effect is of mild exercise on the same principle as that used in the Warm Springs, Ga., water therapy. Without conscious effort by the patient, wasted limbs can be partially restored to usefulness. The mechanism is particularly helpful with children, who cannot comprehend how to use what is left of weakened muscles.

Here is another chapter in the long polio story, to give hope to the polio victim. These sufferers, so courageous in their affliction, have need of courage yet a little longer. Surely some day soon will bring the long awaited answer to the mystery of the source of poliomyelitis.

TORIES AND TORIES

The British Tories have been maligned. Though they tend to the right of the political line-up, they are far less reactionary than their counterparts on the Continent or even in the United States. Far more advanced social legislation was enacted by the Tory ministry of Benjamin Disraeli than by the Liberals under Gladstone. There must be some reason for the progressiveness of the British Tories.

The reason lies in their past, according to an unsigned article in the London "Times Literary Supplement." When the Stuart dynasty was overthrown in 1688, the Tories sided with the fallen rulers and sympathized with the Jacobite revolutionaries who wanted to restore the Stuarts. As such the Tories knew how it felt to be in a small minority. When they finally came to power, their past experiences gave them moderation.

The true explanation is probably the English willingness to see good on both sides and to respect the convictions of others. It is a pity that this spirit is not more widespread elsewhere.

BARROW

TINKER OF THE CUBS

Although he was a great shortstop of the days long before radio came to make its contribution to the fame of baseball players, Joe Tinker of the Chicago Cubs was part of a team within a team, the glory of whose exploits needed no radio magic to aid its spread. When he died the other day, at 68, he was still remembered well.

They didn't invent the double play, but Tinker at short, Evers at second base and Chance at first made their names synonymous with the play. The phrase once so familiar to baseball writers—"Tinker to Evers to Chance"—has become a part of the idiom of the American language. It connotes the combination of high skill, precise timing and swift opportunism.

The double play itself goes on in baseball. Its smooth and skilful execution is one of the high points of enjoyment for the faithful spectator. The failure to make good on a planned double play has brought many a team to grief in a crucial inning.

Modern teams and individual players may rise to great heights, but you'll never convince an old-timer that any combination today can exploit the double play as did Tinker and Evers and Chance.

DEAD AND BURIED

Now that the convention excitements are over, many hold that the greatest service of a purely political nature which President Roosevelt performed for the Democrats was the abolition of the two-thirds rule, which a segment of the party vainly tried to restore at Philadelphia.

The rule was established in 1832 when Andrew Jackson's iron rule of the party made it immaterial whether the convention nominations were made by a mere majority or some larger unit. Since then it has repeatedly bedeviled the party. In 1844 it defeated the party choice. Martin Van Buren, who lost to the first dark horse, James K. Polk. In 1860 it kept Douglas from choice by a united party, and was largely responsible for the Southern bolt. In 1924 the calamitous deadlock between William C. MacAdoo and Al Smith would have been ended early but for the two-thirds rule.

Only in 1912 could it be called beneficial. Then Champ Clark received a majority on the tenth ballot. Only the two-thirds rule defeated him and gave the nomination to the far better qualified Woodrow Wilson. This is the traditional exception to prove the rule.

The defeat of the attempt this year to restore the old practice makes it unlikely that it will ever be reimposed. Each year the new method strikes deeper roots. The two-thirds rule has worked badly in party affairs.

Huffstutler Is Named Judge By Bar Association

Joe D. Huffstutler, Blooming Grove attorney, Friday morning was elected special county judge at a meeting of the Navarro County Bar Association to serve the remainder of the July term of court.

Huffstutler is the county judge-nominate, having received the nomination, unopposed, in the July 24 Democratic primary election.

The bar association meeting was in response to a letter written to Leighton B Dawson, president of the bar, by L. L. Powell, county judge, requesting that a special judge be named for the remainder of the July term, since he is ill and unable to attend to the duties of the office. The July term ends midnight August 31.

J. C. Jacobs, city attorney, secretary of the bar association, was named chairman when the president was absent at the beginning of the session.

Walter Hayes deputy scheriff, issued the customary proclamation at the courthouse doors that the bar association was electing a special judge.

The first case tried by the special judge following his taking the oath of office, administered by J. V. Harwell, county clerk, was admitting to probate the will of the late J. L. Whiteselle, long-time president of the Whiteselle Brick and Lumber Company.

Attorneys present for the election of the special judge in addition to Jacobs and Judge Huffstutler, were C. E. McWilliams, David Ralston, Seton T. Holsey, Matt Dawson, C. W. Taylor, I. C. Roe, Doyle Pevehouse, and President Dawson.

Mrs. Joyce Johnson of Kerens is secretary in the county judge's office.

Texas Woman Is Winner Of $19,000 In Radio Prizes

FORT WORTH, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Herbert Skelton reaped $19,000 in prizes yesterday when she named the "Mystery Melody" on the "Stop the Music" radio show.

"I thought I was going to faint," she said after she correctly identified by telephone the melody "Sun Dance."

Mrs. Skelton, a bride of two weeks, said the first thing she remembers saying was: "My husband is going to be surprised to hear this."

Skelton, an oil company employe, was transferred to Houston Aug. 1. Mrs. Skelton plans to join him as soon as he finds a place for them to live.

She told an Associated Press reporter that she was certain she would keep two of the prizes—a mink coat and an automobile.

The pretty brunette said she came to Fort Worth during the war to work for an aircraft company. She is a native of Vera, Texas, a small town between Lubbock and Wichita Falls.

"A small town girl who made good," was the way she described herself.

Mrs. Skelton said the announcer asked her over the telephone how old she was and said she would get a diamond in a bracelet for each year.

"I misrepresented my age," she admitted. In answer to a question whether she raised or lowered her years, she laughed "a woman always makes it lower, even when it costs her a few diamonds."

She told the Associated Press she was 36 years old.

It Happened 25 Years Ago Today

(From the Files of the Corsicana Daily Sun.)

The Corsicana Rotary Club planned a local memorial service in honor of President Warren G. Harding, whose death saddened the nation. Harding's body was being brought by train to Washington for funeral services, and crowds jammed the train right of way at all stopping points.

The U. S. Army was to ask Congress for $1,500,000 with which to strengthen the fortifications of the Panama Canal.

R. L. McKinney of Dallas was in Corsicana in the interest of getting local members in the Texas Highway Association.

The price of cotton as quoted in Corsicana today was 23 1-2 to 24, and seed was priced at $30 per ton.

The Corsicana school board awarded over a half million dollars in building contracts for the construction of a new high school and three ward schools here, with a view to making Corsicana's plant second to none of its size in the South or Southwest.

Scholastics In Navarro County Showing Decline

A further decline in Navarro county scholastics was shown Thursday when the County Board of Education declared "no grade schools" at Buffalo and Bazette.

Meeting to consider transfers, the board voted through recommendations of various trustees to permit students at the two schools to reveive their education at Kerens. Kerens will maintain one teacher at Bazette, however, but the Buffalo school will be closed, County Superintendent J. C. Watson announced.

The board also voted to make Bryan a five-grade school; it formerly taught eight grades, and those above the fifth grade will be requested to "attend the nearest and most convenient school," Watson reported.

Bus Routes

The board cancelled transfers between state aid schools and voted to [illegible]eet again next Thursday to estab[illegible]sh bus routes in the county. All [illegible]districts are expeced to submit at the time their proposed routes.

Watson explained Friday, following the board's action, that 23 schools are now on the contract basis—that is, their students are going to larger schools.

"Ten years ago each was operating its own school," Watson said, adding that there were about 4[illegible]00 more scholastics in the county system a decade ago.

Houston Nine Shuts Out Locals 10-0 At Waco

A 10-0 shutout at the hands of Angelo's Cafe of Houston put the Corsicana semi-pro baseball team out of the running in the state semi-pro meet Saturday night at Katy Park in Waco.

Albers of the Houston crew let Corsicana down with one lone hit, a single by Fred Gray. At the same time the Harris county contingent pounded Bill Reed and J. B. Hendrix for 11 blows.

Reed pitched 4 1-3 innings, and was relieved by Hendrix, who had no better luck on the mound. Errors cost the Corsicana team heavily at strategic points.

Garden Hygiene Is Urged By A&M Expert

J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist of Texas A. and M. College, has cautioned vegetable gardners that hygiene is an important phase right now.

Hygiene in the garden is as important to vegetables as cleanliness in the home, he points out, and many diseases of vegetables are carried over on the stems and laves or roots of the plants which produced during the spring. Such troubles as southern blight, root rot and other common garden diseases may be carried over from the root system.

Pull or dig out the entire plant, gardeners are advised, rather than cutting it off at the ground level. Then keep the soil stirred up to prevent weed growth, as weeds will take up the moisture that may be needed to start the fall vegetables. Scatter compost or barnlot fertilizer over the surface and plot it to a depth of three or four inches. If the soil is kept in good condition until middle or late August, or even early September, many fall vegetables can be started.

Son Of Local Resident Weds In Dallas Rite

Miss Margaret Jean Schaffnit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schaffnit of Dallas, and Wayne Andrew Melton, son of Mrs. Grace Melton and the late W A. Melton of Corsicana, were married Saturday evening in the rectory of Christ the King church by the Rev. W. J. Bender.

After a wedding trip to Lake Louise, Banff and Jasper Park, Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Melton will be at home in Dallas.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length platinum-gray satin dress made with a fitted bodice accented with pearl buttons and a full skirt. Her gray hat was trimmed with ostrich feathers. Her other accessories were black, and she had a white orchid corsage.

Jester Says He Had Reservations In Dixie Signing

AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester has reminded his Dixiecrat critics that he signed the Southern governor's anti-Truman manifesto with reservations.

Jester said the record shows he signed after making it clear he was not attempting to speak for Texas Democrats.

His comments came after a full page advertisement was published in yesterday's Dallas Morning News asking "Why has Governor Jester reversed himself?"

It also said: "If he agreed that Texas electoral college votes should not be cast for Truman March 13, why is he for Truman now?"

The ad was sponsored by the Texas committee of states rights Democrats. It was another lick at Jester in the current fight between the so-called "Loyalist" Democrats headed by Jester and the States' Rights group.

Jester is going along with the party in support of President Truman. The Dixiecrats want Texas' Democratic vote to be cast for Gov. J. Strom Thurmond.

Jester said he signed the states rights documents at the Washington cosference of governors to express his disapproval of what he considered to be the invasions of constitutional privileges of the states in the Truman civil rights program.

"I said then that I could not speak for or bind the Democrats of Texas, that they would express themselves in convention," Jester said. "I am still for states rights, but within the frame-work of the party."

Choir Leader Is Charged In Wife Shooting Sunday

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 9—(AP)—J. Bennett Morrow, 46, a choir leader, was charged today with murder in the death of 's wife Mrs. Wyema Morrow, 44, who was shot and killed instantly yesterday morning near the Morrow home two and one-half miles east of Newark.

Morrow was free Monday on $5,000 bond. The murder charge was filed in Justice of the Peace Gus Brown's court.

Death Instantaneous

Morrow, in a written statement made to Assistant District Attorney Foy Curry yesterday, said his wife was shot when his .38 Colt pistol was discharged during a scuffle in the Morrows' car outside their home.

The bullet entered Mrs. Morrow's left arm and penetrated her chest. She died instantly. Morrow took the body to a hospital and surrendered at Sheriff Sully Montgomery's office a few minutes later.

Morrow, choir leader at the Rosen Heights Church of Christ, told Curry he married his wife last November and they began having domestic trouble a few months ago when she suffered "nervous spells."

Statement Given

"This morning about 7:30," Morrow told Curry Sunday, "she got up to make some coffee and I had started out to milk, when she flew into a rage. She turned over the table and threw a fruit jar in the sink and then a kerosene lamp at me.

"Then she ran out to the car and got the pistol. I got in the car on the other side in an effort to take it away from her and during the scuffle the gun was discharged. After the shot was fired she said, 'Oh, my God.'"

The committee witness who is "resting" in the Soviet consulate in New York City is Mrs. Aksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, a 52-year-old Russian teacher.

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) said the committee is ready with a subpoenae for her if the State Department rules that diplomatic immunity does not cover consulates.

Russians In Dispute.

Mrs. Kosenkina, who has been teaching at a school for Russian children in New York, is the key figure in a row among White (anti-Communist) and Red (Communist) Russians. The Soviet consulate says it rescued her from the White Russians, who wanted to prevent her return to the U. S. S. R. The White Russians say the woman came to them for refuge and in fear of her life, only to be taken away to the consulate Saturday against her desires.

Mundt says he doesn't know the truth about the affair. But he said the committee would like to question Mrs. Kosenkina because he understands she is willing to talk about all phases of Soviet "intrigue" in this country.

Meanwhile, the case of a second Russian school teacher who passed up his scheduled return to the the Soviet Union and, in addition, took his story to the FBI also held the committee's attention.

Red Due Questioning.

Mundt said he will call Michael Ivanovitch Samarin for questioning "if we can find him."

Mundt's assertion came after he had received a report that Samarin had given himself up to the FBI. The FBI acknowledged that the teacher had appeared at bureau headquarters in New York yesterday and asked for an interview.

The FBI spokesman insisted Samarin was not being held in custody but added: "I'm sure he can be found if he is wanted."

official Taegliche Rundschau threatened worse things to come unless the anti-Communist city government yields to demands that Berlin be incorporated into the Soviet occupation zone.

The American-licensed newspaper Tegasspiegel said "a number" of German police officials serving the western Berlin police force have been arrested by rival police of the Soviet sector.

Seized In Homes

The newspaper said some were seized in their homes and were carried off without even having a chance to dress.

Of the Russian pressure campaign, the British-licensed Telegraf said:

"These are facts which should wipe out all illusions about the Soviet readiness to negotiate a real understanding. While the talks are going on in Moscow the Russians act on the spot here."

The United States acted, too. Sixteen B-29 Superforteresses landed in England en route to Germany. Fourteen others are expected today. They will replace the 301st bomb group of B-29 which has been based in Germany, maintai at 90 the number of Superfortresses now in Europe.

Officials On Way

In London and heading for Germany for an on-the-spot check of the flying supply line Berlin are Secretary for Air W. Stuart Symington and Lt. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the air force.

The arrival of these high-ranking figures at this time touched off speculation in London diplomatic circles that their purpose is:

1. To underline to the Russians the American determination to maintain and increase the air lift as long as the Russians continue to block the surface routes to Berlin from the western zones of Germany.

2. To plan for the future, including the coming winter, if no agreement is reached.

cratic nominee for president.

Earlier, loyalists leaders defied the Dixiecrats by certifying Truman. Dixiecrats charged this was "unlawful."

Texas' Loyalist Democrats today defied the Dixiecrats by certifying President Truman as the Texas party's nominee for president, and a States' Rights leader called it an "unlawful act."

Party Chairman Robert W. Calvert and Secretary Vann M. Kennedy filed their formal certification of the Truman-Alben W. Barkley ticket with Secretary of State Paul H. Brown, for printing on the November election ballot. Brown accepted it.

"Unlawful Act."

Lloyd Price of Fort Worth, a Dixiecrat spokesman, commented: "It was an unlawful act. We will appeal their action to the September convention."

That's where the final party showdown on the Truman-Dixiecrat fight will come, but court action may follow if the Dixiecrats are outvoted at the Fort Worth session in September.

Calvert and Kennedy made the certification a few minutes before the state executive committee went into session to canvass returns of the July primary and to consider a Dixiecrat demand for an Aug. 28 referendum on whether or not members of the party in Texas want their electoral votes cast for Truman or for the Thurmond-Wright Southern Democrat ticket.

First Legal Blow.

Calvert's and Kennedy's action was the first legal blow in the elector battle.

Their action was in compliance with a state statute providing that the chairman and secretary of the party certify the presidential and vice presidential candidates names with the secretary of state for printing on the ballot in the November general election.

The Dixiecrats had called on them not to certify Truman and Barkley on the Texas ballot until after the party convention in September. The Dixiecrats also are demanding that the executive committee in its session today order a referendum in the August run-off primary on the Truman-Thurmond issue.

Dixie Candidates Urged.

The Dixiecrats want Gov. J. Strom Thurmond and Gov. Fielding Wright's names to appear on the November ballot as the official Democratic candidates for president and vice president in Texas.

The States' Rights Democrats came before the state executive committee meeting here in a fighting mood, conceding no points to the loyalist faction.

"It is not a foregone conclusion that the committee will refuse our demand for a referendum on the Truman-Thurmond issue," said Lloyd Price of Fort Worth, a leader of the Dixiecrat faction.

Radio Report Due.

Palmer Bradley of Houston, another topflight Dixiecrat, announced that former State Senator Joe Hill would give a radio report on today's committee action tonight.

"The fight has just started," Bradley said.

These statements were issued as Texas Democratic leaders gathered for the first round in a scrap that could lead to complete party disintegration.

One faction (Loyalists) was determined to keep the Texas party in line—at least mechanically—with the national organization.

The other (States' Righters) was equally set on seeing to it that the presidential and vice-presidential candidates of the party in Texas will not be Harry Truman and Alben Barkley, but J. Strom Thurmond and Fielding S. Wright.

Jester "Loyalist."

The so-called Loyalist group, headed by Calvert and Gov. Beauford H. Jester, have pledged themselves to support Truman and Barkley in line with their interpretation of instructions issued by the May convention.

The States' Rights or Dixiecrat wing insist that most Texas Democrats really don't want Truman and Barkley because the Brownwood convention spoke so positively against Truman's federal civil rights program.

The Brownwood convention expressed unalterable disapproval of the civil rights program, but it also bound the party's electors to vote for the national party nominees. The Texas delegation to Philadelphia went all the way through that convention without so much as a friendly gesture toward Truman. It came home faced with the unhappy task of supporting a candidate it didn't like, running on a program it couldn't swallow.

The Dixiecrats urge the party to abandon that position and come out wholeheartedly for the Southern Democratic slate that is flatly opposed to the federal civil rights proposals.

They have urged the state executive committee to order a referendum printed on the Aug. 28 run-off primary ballot, putting the Truman-Thurmond issue squarely before the voters. Committee leaders have argued this is not legally possible, since absentee voting has already started.

Receive Awards.

Three members of Boy Scout thoops 285 and 286 were honored with awards at Camp Wisdom last Friday according to E. E. Collins, scoutmaster for the two State Home troops.

Lewis Fletcher, I. C. Tomerlin and Roy Lee May were awarded the Order of the Arrow. Leon Hambrick was awarded the Brotherhood, or second degree of the Order of the Arrow.

does, he will be able to tell the country just how inadequate and how meager they are," Lucas declared.

There were indications that when he gets around to acting on the measures, Mr. Truman will do just that. His party members expect the president to use blistering language in describing the Republicans' refusal to give him the price-wage and rationing controls he said are necessary to bring down the high cost of living.

But the Republicans had a ready answer to anything Mr. Truman might say about inflation—a contention that he has hampered congressional investigations into Communist activities in the government.

"Iron Curtain" Charged.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), who headed one of the inquiry committees, charged in the senate's closing session that the president had thrown up "an iron curtain between congress and the public business."

The Michigan senator said his committee's investigation had been stopped by Mr. Truman's refusal to permit government agencies to turn over records of persons ascused of Communist activities.

"Congress," Ferguson shouted to his colleagues, "is rapidly being pushed into the intolerable position of having either to legislate through a blind spot or compel the president to answer for his conduct in impeachment proceedings."

Truman Election Urged.

Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, the Democratic national chairman, said in a week end statement that the "only relief the American public can get from further increases in prices already shockingly high is to elect President Truman and a Democratic congress in November."

The measures the president got out of the special session represented only a crust of the loaf he asked

The lawmakers voted a housing bill aimed at encouraging the building of small homes and large rental properties. And a separate appropriation to carry out this program did include $5,000,000 to buy automobiles for disabled veterans, as Mr. Truman had asked.

No Slum Funds.

But neither measure contained the subsidies for low-rent and slum clearance housing that the president proposed.

On the anti-inflation front, the Republican controlled congress gave him even less.

Its bill consisted of authority to restore wartime curbs on time-payment buying and to increase Federal Reserve Bank reserves—thus cutting down on bank loans and indirectly on the amount of money in circulation.

The president asked for both of these, but he also wanted price controls and other measures to combat the cost of living.

U. N. Loan Approved.

Congress passed one bill both Mr. Truman and his Republican opponent, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, approved. It authorizes a $65,000,000 loan to the United Nations to build a permanent home in New York City.

In addition to the four bills the special session sent along to Mr. Truman for his signature—the housing and anti-inflation measures, the U. N. loan and the housing-autos-for-veterans appropriation—the lawmakers enacted a fifth that requires no presidential approval.

It appropriated the money to pay the senators and representatives 20 cents a mile for their trip back to Washington and home again. The amount came to $171,000 for the house and $51,000 for the senate.

portedly admitted in a telephone conversation that he had heard "some talk" about the Republican action, but said "I don't know anything about it."

One of the biggest battles in the GOP convention may come in the selection of a new state chairman.

Separate Candidate

George C. Hopkins of Dallas, retiring state chairman, and R. B. Creager, Brownsville, national committeeman, are backing separate candidates.

Hopkins is supporting Hobart K. McDowell of San Angelo for the post and Creager is backing Henry Swiefel of Fort Worth.

The Waco News-Tribune said Creager Saturday claimed he and his friends can "control at least 80 per cent of the convention."

Hopkins said here yesterday that efforts to meet with Creager and make the convention one of hormony had failed.

More than 300 delegates are expected.

"resting" at the Soviet consulate here.

Soviet officials said Mrs. Kosenkina—whom the house committee also would like to question—had been "rescued" from a White Russian resort at Valuey Cottage, N. Y.

Officials at the Valley Cottage resort said the woman had returned to New York because she was too "terrorized" to refuse. Both she and Samarin had been scheduled to return to Russia last month on the Soviet liner Pobeda.

In Mrs. Kosenkina's presence, Russian consulate officials said at a news conference Saturday that she had been drugged and kidnapped by White Russians and been held captive at the farm since July 30.

Return Said Scheduled.

Consulate spokesmen said the White Russians' object was to prevent her return to Russia, scheduled for the day after the alleged abduction.

Soviet Consul General Jacob Lomakin told of "rescuing" Mrs. Kosenkina from the farm Saturday after battling about a dozen "White Russian bandits."

Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, who operates the farm about 30 miles north of New York City as a retreat for displaced Russians, called Lomakin's story a "lot of baloney."

The New York Times today quoted Samarin as saying "I don't wish to go back to the Soviet Union, and am placing myself under the protection of the American government and American public opinion."

The Times quoted the teacher as denouncing the "party, police and governmental machinery" of the Soviet Union.

still the same—staying with the nominees of the party—a practice he has followed throughout his political career.

He said he would have nothing to do with any effort to sidetrack or sabotage support of the National Democratic ticket.

Supporting Party

Discussing the criticism levelled at him for signing an agreement with the Southern governors recently in Washington, Jester said he signed it with reservations clearly stated and understood at the time—that the people of Texas had since spoken in favor of supporting the nominees of the party in the Brownwod convention, and as the governor, he would support that mandate.

Making it clear he had not liked the nominees and party planks on numerous occasions, he intimated that he also did not like the civil rights program of the National Democratic platform, but was not going to desert the party.

Jester said that Democrats failing or refusing to vote for the national nominees will be helping elect Republican Candidate Dewey as much as if voting for him.

The governor also inspected his 750-acre farm west of the Corsicana Country club. He is seeking to make this farm a model of soil conservation practices. He may go to Dallas on personal business this afternoon.

Upon arrival in Corsicana, the governor went immediately to the home of his mother, Mrs. George T. Jester, for the week-end.

had been ginned prior to Aug. 11. This compares with 193,638 ginned to the same date last year and 171,641 to the same date two years ago.

Crop Condition Good

The condition of the cotton crop on Aug. 1 was reported at 85 per cent of normal. This compares with 78 percent a year ago and 76 percent for the ten-year average.

The indicated yield of lint cotton per acre was reported at 313.5 pounds, compared with 267.2 last year and 254.2 for the ten-year average.

The condition of the crop, the indicated yield per acre and production, respectively, for major cotton producing states included: Arkansas 91 percent of normal; 415 pounds per acre and production 1,975,000 bales; Louisiana 80; 364 and 700,000; Oklahoma 78; 162 and 350,000; Texas 79; 187 and 3,500,000; New Mexico 97; 557 and 254,000; Arizona 92; 499 and 235,000.

Action Here Planned.

Foreseeing a sharp cotton price cut, Navarro county agricultural officials Monday began taking steps to prevent farmers in this area from suffering a severe financial loss on their 1948 crops.

Acting in the wake of a U. S. cotton crop forecast of more than 15,000,000 bales, and a sudden price decline, agriculturists were attempting to locate warehouses to store Navarro county cotton for farmers seeking aid under the government's cotton price support program.

Cline T. Young, Triple A secretary, declared:

"If the price of cotton drops below the support price of 30.53, farmers will suffer a severe loss unless approved warehouses are available."

No Warehouses.

Both Young and County Agent W. H. Walker said there were no warehouses in the county approved by the government. Under regulations set down by the Commodity Credit Corporation, Young explained, a farmer's cotton must be stored in an approved warehouse before he can take advantage of the price support program.

Young said farmers in the county had not been participating in the government program for some time mostly because of the high cotton prices.

County Finances Improve, Auditor Reports To Court

Navarro County's financial condition is better than it's been in a long time, Auditor E. Y. Cunningham reported Monday at a meeting of the Commissioners' Court.

The auditor made th's disclosure in submitting his July financial statement to the court. The report showed a total cash on hand of $61,748.80 in the road and bridge fund and $22,474.41 in the road and bridge special maintenance fund.

Also higher than usual is the available balance in the general fund's budget. The figure stood at $37,172.37. Cunningham explained that only approximately $3,000 is spent monthly out of the general fund. Increased receipts and economy in operation are responsible for the good financial condition, the auditor said.

Two new employees in the tax collector's office were approved by the court at $100 per month each. They are Jimmie Collins of Emhouse and Ruth Sharpley of Corsicana. Assessor Collector A. A. Armstrong appeared before the court and announced the resignation of Joan Jordan. He plans to employ three special deputies, including the two approved Monday, for special tax work.

Reports of the county agent and home demonstration agent were approved and filed, and the monthly bills was approved.

The court was in session slightly more than an hour and was scheduled to convene again at 3 p. m.

District Court

Several criminal cases were disposed of in district court Thursday, including the following:

Eddie Steward, negro, pleaded guilty to forgery and passing, waived trial by jury and was sentenced to five years in prison in each of five counts. The sentences will run concurrently.

John Henry Winston, negro, pleaded guilty to cattle theft and received a five-year suspended sentence, recommended by a jury.

A District Court jury Friday assessed a three-year prison term for Francisco L. Ruiz, Latin-American who was convicted of assault with intent to murder Maggie Tirado the night of April 17 near the Oil City Iron Works.

Ruiz had pleaded innocent and made application for a suspended sentence in event of conviction, but he admitted on the witness stand that he stabbed the woman with a knife. The jury was out less than an hour.

Two juvenile hearings were conducted before District Judge A. P. Mays Saturday morning involving negro boys accused of shoplifting. One of the pair, aged 15, was charged with theft of an electric iron at Sears. He was remanded to the sheriff pending action by the parents in letting a sister in another state care for him. The other youth, 13, was released on good behavior and warned by Judge Mays never to steal again. He was accused of taking a man's purse from the J. C. Penney store.

A temporary injunction against A. C. Reid et ux, was granted by Judge A. P. Mays Saturday restraining him from constructing a levee adjoining J. E. Sloane's property along Briar creek, in the J. C. Neill survey.

Jaycee-ettes Angered At C Of C Plan After Permit Denied Follies Program

The Jaycee-ettes, not fooling about their follies, are preparing to lock horns with the solicitation control committee of the Chamber of Commerce in what is likely to be the first test of the chamber's drive in program advertising.

That the Jaycee-ettes aren't in a pretty mood about the skirmishes so far was evident Saturday as Mrs. Claude Hervey Jr., in an understatement, said "they're pretty mad."

Mrs. Hervey, president of the Jaycee-ettes, and Herman Brown, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, announced that the solicitation control committee had rejected application of the former club to solicit advertising for the program of the Follies, scheduled Oct. 20 and 21.

Hope to Sell Advertising

Mrs. Hervey said she and Mrs. Vernon Harwell, chairman of the Follies committee, gave Brown all information regarding the program two days ago.

Brown said the group hopes to sell advertising ranging from $100 for a full page to $8 for one-sixteenth of a page.

An out-of-town producer and the Jaycee-ettes have signed a contract whereby the producer is paid 50 percent of all the take, but cannot draw more than a maximum of $1350 from all revenue sources.

The committee—some of them—met Friday and did not approve the request.

The control program recently was sponsored and organized by the Chamber and pledge cards mailed to merchants in an effort to have all forms of solicitation cleared at the chamber office.

Merchants Promise Co-operation

Brown said Saturday that so far 73 merchants have returned cards saying they would coorerate in the control idea.

The Jaycee-ettes, a comely group of young women not designed to accept fate without bopping it a few times, met at the Country Club Friday and discussed the committee's action in rejecting the program plan. About 30 were present, Mrs. Hervey said.

She declared the women felt not enough members of the committee attended the chamber session.

Will Make Another Try

She said the Jaycee-ettes were "going to try to see" the committee again.

Mrs. Hervey declared the contract with the producer was signed during the tenure of Mrs. J. C. Gaston as president, and the club was committed prior to the launching of the chamber's control program.

Brown said the committee decided the program soliciation fell under the rules of the group whereby merchants are pledged not to support any drive for funds, whether by advertisements or solicitation, unless the solicitors have been given a letter of approval by the committee

Mrs Harwell said she hoped the committee would reopen the matter and hear representatives from the organization.

"We have already sold about $400 worth of advertising," she said.

"We do hope to get the approval of the chamber committee.

"If we don't, of course, we will just have to go ahead."
